

Christoph Beuttler

Chief Climate Policy Officer, Climate Policy, Climeworks

Nationality

German

Career History

Christoph Beuttler is the Chief Climate Policy Officer at Climeworks and a global expert on carbon dioxide removal (CDR), with several years of experience in the field. He is President of the Negative Emissions Platform (NEP) in Brussels and holds several board positions in Carbon Removal associations in the US and Europe, as well as a visiting lecturer in risk perception and communication for science and policy at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETHZ). His academic background is in Economics, Business Administration, and International Business. He was educated in Heidelberg, Germany, and London, UK.