

DOHNOMAE Hitoshi

Chair, International Environmental Strategic Committee, The Japan Iron and Steel Federation

Nationality

Japanese

Career History

Dr. Dohnomae has been Chair of the International Environmental Strategic Committee of the Japan Iron and Steel Federation and General Manager, Environmental Planning Division of Nippon Steel Corporation since 2019.

He joined Nippon Steel Corporation and was assigned as a researcher in Advanced Technology Research Laboratories in 1988. He was Head of Environment Research Laboratory in 2015. Since 2019, he has been in charge of global environmental affairs at Nippon Steel Corp. He joined Nippon Steel Corporation and was assigned to a researcher in Advanced Technology Research Laboratories in 1988. He was Head of Environment Research Laboratory in 2015. Since 2019, he has been in charge of global environmental affairs at Nippon Steel Corp.

Areas of expertise

He received a master's degree in chemistry from the Faculty of Science, Kyoto University in 1988, Doctor of Science from Kyoto University in 1993, and a Professional Engineer, Japan (Applied Science) in 2013.